
OLD SETTLERS time has arrived. Although there may be some who probably could care less, the fact remains that the celebration, the second oldest of its type in California, provides this community with its only home-grown event of the year.

It is really the only community-wide project that Campbell has. We have long believed that every community should have some such affair to latch onto as sort of a rallying ground of common interest.

Old Settlers Day in Campbell has a proud and lengthy history and we greet with enthusiasm the 73rd celebration of the annual event which takes place this weekend.

There is always a definite need for old settlers and new settlers to find a common denominator in any community. Our Old Settlers event definitely provides that base. What to do with it remains the question.

So welcome old timers and new timers alike. Let's all have a good time.

A NEW NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER is soon to make his debut in California.

Our long-time associate and good friend, Joe Anello, is leaving The Press to establish his own newspaper in Cloverdale on the Russian River.

Volume one, number one of "The Cloverdale Sentinel" will soon make its appearance with Joseph F. Anello as its founder and publisher.

Publishing a newspaper is not a brand new field for Joe. During our absence in 1962-63 he did an outstanding job while at the helm of The Campbell Press.

Joe has been with The Campbell Press for 18 years, eight years longer than we have. Things very definitely will not be the same around our joint when Giuseppi is gone.

Joe has been preparing for the venture in Cloverdale for a number of months on a sort of weekend-commuting basis.

The machinery is now in place. All that remains is to try to get as many bugs out of it as possible before the paper makes its official launching.

Joe has made an indelible impression on the community of Campbell during the past 18 years. That he will be missed goes without saying.

And his fine family of Laura, his wife, and Laurie and Mike, will leave a niche in the community that will be hard to fill.

It is difficult to put in words the feelings we all have, especially for those of us who have worked so closely with Joe, who now becomes a "pioneer".

We are confident that The Cloverdale Sentinel will be successful. We

Annual Sunday parade features gala event

"Yesterday, today and tomorrow", the theme of this year's Old Settlers days in Campbell, will be emphasized in many ways when the annual four-day celebration that gets off the ground tomorrow.

Weeks of preparation go on the block this weekend as Campbell's 73rd annual Old Settlers celebration takes the spotlight.

The gala event will be officially launched at a kickoff luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce this Thursday, May 13. It will come to a colorful close on Sunday, May 16, with the annual parade. The parade moves out at 2 p.m.

Old Settlers Celebration, sponsored by the C. of C., is rated as the second oldest civic celebration in California. Robert M. Culp, principal of Campbell High, is this year's coordinator for the celebration.

The parade will form at Hamilton Plaza on Bascom, proceed south to Campbell Ave. then west on Campbell to Winchester and north on Winchester to Latimer where it disbands.

Co-grand marshals of the parade, which will feature many antique automobiles will be Craig Morton and Jack Schraub, Campbell football stars who were big guns on the University of California grid team where Morton gained All-American status, the first for a Campbell High grad.

Both have signed professional football contracts with the Dallas Cowboys. They also combined to score the winning touchdown in the East-West game.

Another feature for Sunday will be the Old Settlers luncheon at the Campbell High cafetorium. The women of the Orchard City Grange, in cooperation with the C. of C. are SPECIAL AWARD--GLYNIS WRIGHT, 18, a talented vocalist and a straight-A student from Campbell High, swept the field Saturday night in the Miss Campbell pageant, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. She is being congratulated (above) by her pleased parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Wright, of 1373 Phelps, San Jose. More details and pictures appear on page 2.

Want to be a commissioner?

Do you want to serve your city in an official capacity?

If you do, the way has been opened to you by the City Council.

Something new in the way of appointments to official city commissions was inaugurated Monday night. The council unanimously agreed that citizens interested in serving their city should make their desires known by applying for positions on the various commissions.

The council then would choose the best from the applicants.

The new policy will be tried for the first time in filling the vacancy now existing on the Planning Commission created by the resignation of Ed Stojanovich.

Council members appealed to those interested to submit their application as soon as possible. They hope to be flooded with them.

Gazette appears

With today's issue of The Campbell Press also appears the "Old Settlers Gazette", a 12-page supplement which describes in detail the history and background of the oldest pioneer celebration in California.

The supplement, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, is supported by business firms with their advertising. Copies of the Gazette will be distributed during the celebration.

Residents have been asked to dress in western garb for the celebration and they can obtain the necessary equipment from Golden Rule Department Store, Jeffers and Sprouse-Reitz who are well supplied.

"YESTERDAY, TODAY and TOMORROW"--The three people above, aided by an IBM computer carry out the theme of the 73rd Annual Old Settlers celebration. Mike Bowlen, young clown (left) who will be in the parade Sunday illustrates "today." Miss Dorothea Standish in an 1880 gown means "yesterday" aided by Elton Admire wearing a 1890 tux. Campbell's IBM card plant furnished the setting with the computer as the "tomorrow" bit.

Community-wide retirement dinner on June 3 honors superintendent

Climax of various honors being planned upon the occasion of William C. Henley's retirement as superintendent of Campbell Union School District will be his retirement dinner June 3 at Santa Clara County Fairgrounds, when 1000 people are expected to be in attendance.

The keynote address will be given by Dr. William Rogers, professor of education at San Jose State College. He has helped train many students who later entered successful careers as teachers and administrators in Campbell Union School District.

Bob Landreth, principal of Monroe School, is general chairman for the dinner. Ralph Dill, principal of Parkway School, is chairman of the Campbell Elementary Administrators' Association committee planning the dinner. May 15 is the deadline for reservations.

Reservations may be made by mail or in person at each school office in the district, or with Mrs. Elaine Hendricks, district librarian, at 155 N. Third Street, Campbell.

The dinner, prepared by special caterers, will start at 7:30 p.m. and feature filet mignon steak. A social hour with hors d'oeuvres will begin at 6:30 p.m. Bruce Stevenson, principal at Rolling Hills School, will entertain with organ selections during the social hour and part of the dinner.

Campbell Elementary Administrators' Association and the teachers and other staff members working with them and trying to reach all groups and individuals who have worked with Bill Henley or who have been affected by his service to school children and the community. They do not want to miss any people who should be invited.

Tony Perreira, principal of Marshall Lane School, is chairman of the program committee for the dinner. Entertainment will include songs by Wally Bekowies, and other songs by a quartet called "The Uncalled Four" - including Bekowies, Ray Johnson and Dick Ullman - all teachers at Rolling Hills School, and Charles Pyle, district music consultant.

Bud Jolimay, teacher at Rolling Hills, will be master of ceremonies. The Rev. Ed Cunningham will give the invocation, and the Rev. Corwin Olds will pronounce the benediction.

Mrs. Pearl Calabrese, supervisor of food services, is making arrangements with the special caterers for the menu.

Park link on creek

Campbell residents and city officials have long dreamed of a park and recreational development along Los Gatos Creek stretching from Campbell to Los Gatos.

Although it has been only a dream in the past, a few preliminary steps have already been taken by the city and the dream seems to be coming more realistic.

The improvement program undertaken by the city in the development of Campbell Park at Campbell Ave. and Gilman Ave. encompasses only a tiny portion of the overall picture. Yet this development clearly shows what can be done in the transforming of an unsightly tract into a place of beauty.

The city is purchasing a seven-acre tract from the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District near Camden Ave. and adjacent to 80-acres of percolation ponds along the creek maintained by the district.

True this particular tract is now only a hole-in-the-ground. But it doesn't take much imagination to visualize how it also can be developed into an attractive recreational area. Being adjacent to the man-made lakes (percolation ponds) will make it doubly attractive.

These are just two minor steps, as we said. But they are steps in the right direction.

We feel it is entirely possible to link up these park areas with the percolation ponds and with Vasona Lake (another man-made development) through a series of landscaped sections so eventually the entire creek bed could be scenic as well as useful.

It wouldn't be necessary to develop all the area along the creek in a pretentious style. In fact some of it would be more attractive if left in a semi-rough state.

One of our readers, Mrs. Marge Schanck, in a letter-to-the-editor has suggested, for example, that the stretch along the creek would lend itself to riding trails for equestrians.

She adds that if that idea was "too far out" why not develop bicycle paths instead? She points out that many families would enjoy bike trips free from auto hazards and she also envisions picnic areas spotted along the way.

She also suggests that The Campbell Press start a "suggestion campaign" to promote interest in the development of the property.

We commend Mrs. Schranck for her interest. We welcome suggestions along this line, for we have long felt we were just a lone voice in the wilderness and our dream was considered too visionary by most people.

And now is the time to develop this interest on a sort of show of hands basis.

City officials, for the first time, have received encouragement from the county supervisors in the development of a park link along Los Gatos Creek.

The supervisors have directed the county parks director to compile information on the availability of land and the projected cost for such a development.

Previously city officials have not been able to generate much interest outside of their own immediate circle in such a program and have more or less been forced to go it alone in any move toward the ultimate objective.

But development of the creek should not be this city's sole responsibility, for it will be something that those living outside the city limits will derive equal benefit.

We concede that there may be sections along the creek that for one reason or another cannot be tied into any park link.

We have not examined every foot of the area but we feel certain the majority of the acreage could be acquired and improved. It would not have to be done all at once.

We are convinced more than ever that the dream can come true.

It will take a great deal of cooperation by various agencies. And it will take considerable money.

But we feel that the end result will be worthwhile.

We hope others who feel as we do and as Mrs. Schranck does will stand up and be counted.

Progress does not necessarily mean covering all land with asphalt and buildings.

May 9 thru 15 is Police Week

May 9 through 15 has been proclaimed Police Week and May 15 as Peace Officers Memorial Day in the City of Campbell by Mayor Charles Rose.

In a proclamation issued at City Hall Mayor Rose stated that "Understanding is the watchword to compatibility, and it is important that the people of our city know and understand the problems, duties and responsibilities of their police department."

He urges all residents to take advantage of this opportunity to honor police officers of this community and to visit Campbell Police headquarters during the next few weeks.

Police Chief John Morgan indicated that there will be announcement at a later date concerning the hours that the public may visit the Campbell Police Department, as he did not wish to interfere in any way with the Old Settlers Celebration slated for this week-end.

are proud, in a sort of nostalgic way, that the experience that Joe gained on The Campbell Press will stand him in good stead. The people of Cloverdale are fortunate and the gainers in this deal.

We wrap it all up by saying a heartfelt "Good luck, Joe".

That expression just has to cover it, even if it does seem terribly prosaic at a time like this.

S. F. GIANT FANS climbed all over us after last week's issue made its appearance. And rightly so.

Did you catch our goof in the cutline of a picture that appeared telling about the game scheduled between the Giants and Santa Clara University?

The Giant ballplayer in the photo was identified as Willie Mays when it actually was Orlando Cepada.

We learned that there are a number of avid Giant fans among our readers.

Part of the blame has to be passed onto the Santa Clara U. publicity department that sent us the wrong information for the cutline. But that still didn't keep our faces from becoming pretty red, especially when there are a number of Giant boosters on the staff.

We started keeping a score card on the calls that we received.

They started right after the paper was out. The callers included men, women and youngsters.

Top of the batting order goes to DAVID GRAHAM-ARMSTRONG. His call came in early Wednesday afternoon and was closely followed by one from GEORGE FLOOD.

So it goes.

You win a few and lose a few, just like the Giants.

SERVICE STATIONS continue to plague city officials. It's a question of darned if you do or darned if you don't when it comes to approving 'em.

City planners are trying to do a conscientitous job in the thankless task of checking 'em out. They have very definitely attempted to up-grade new ones planned for the area.

A case in point is the one planned for Winchester and Latimer on property owned by Charlie Rose. If the end result will be anything like the model submitted by American Oil Co., officials, that one won't even look like a gas station, which suits us just fine.

At the last Planning Commission meeting, two commissioners, JIM TOMLINSON and JACK HEALEY collaborated in the following non-prize-winning verse (?) which illustrates their plight:

"Be it ever so Humble
We sure do have a jumble of service stations galore. God forbid there be any more.

Question before Council

Off-ramp for Campbell Ave.?

Should Campbell Ave. have an off-ramp from Highway 17?

That was the question that bothered the city councilmen on Monday when they were asked whether they favored such a recommendation made by the Chamber of Commerce?

Ted Regas, C. of C. highway relations chairman, asked for the councilmen's views because his committee was making a recommendation to state officials which included the request for an off-ramp from the freeway at Campbell Ave.

Regas explained that the county chambers of commerce had included the off-ramp recommendation in the request for widening Highway 17 from Moorpark to Lark and the improvement of other off-ramps.

The group had also recommended directional signs for Campbell at Bayshore and Highway 17. Campbell's request for signs at that particular intersection has been a perennial one, starting when the freeway was first opened.

So far, however, the request has fallen on deaf ears as far as state officials are concerned. Last year in an official letter, state highway people claimed that it was found that such signs should only have two names on them. The present signs at the intersection show "Santa Cruz" and "Los Gatos".

Regas maintained that Campbell should persist to fight for better directional signs even in face of the strong opposition.

Council members enthusiastically endorsed the recommendation of signs and widening of Highway 17. But they indicated they were not sure whether an off-ramp at Campbell Ave. was a logical move.

Councilman Ralph Doetsch felt that the council should go along with the recommendation for an off-ramp. He said that the C. of C. did not tie down the council and he felt that no harm would be done by the request.

Councilmen Bill Smeed and Bob McElroy maintained that they did not know the answer now. But until some plan was instituted for downtown development they could not recommend an off-ramp.

Mayor Charles Rose and Councilman Ed Rogers vigorously opposed the off-ramp recommendation. Both cited surveys that had been made for the city by traffic and economic experts to bolster their arguments.

Rose also pointed out the tremendous cost that would be involved, not only in providing the proper grading for an off-ramp but also in the purchasing of expensive property.

Rogers added that he did not favor the off-ramp idea because he felt that it would make a race-track out of Campbell Ave.

In face of the opinions expressed by the councilmen, Regas said that he would withdraw the off-ramp recommendation from the report that he would make this week. the trafficways group and county C. of C. officials.

preparing and serving the luncheon.

Invited guests include old settlers and city and county officials.

At the kickoff luncheon on Thursday at Villa Felice, C. of C. members have been asked to wear western garb to carry out the pioneer theme of the celebration.

Holly Vollenweider, local real estate agent, will show pictures of early-day pictures of Santa Clara Valley at the luncheon to carry out this year's theme of "yesterday, today and tomorrow".

On Thursday evening, the Great Western Shows will begin operating their carnival located at Campbell Ave. and Harrison.

At this same location a strawberry shortcake booth will be a featured attraction for the four days. The women of the Congregational Church, in cooperation with the C. of C., will operate the booth.

On Saturday at 6 p. m. a folk song concert will take place at the West Valley College athletic field featuring Tom Holwarda and Jim Fletcher.

The concert precedes the second annual Donkey Baseball game between the Chamber of Commerce and city employees. The first ball will be "thrown" at 6:30 p. m. The C. of C. won the game and the plaque last year.

During the week the Campbell Museum, located at 272 E. Campbell Ave. in the C. of C. office, will be open. On display will be momentos of the early history of Campbell.

Also during the week members of Girl Scout Troop 13 with Mrs. Donald Mason as leader, have been working on their community service badges by distributing the special Old Settlers Gazette.

Miss Campbell sweeps awards at pageant

An auburn-haired, straight-A student from Campbell High School captivated the audience and a blue ribbon panel of judges and all but swept the field in the Miss Campbell Pageant held Saturday, May 8.

The newly crowned Miss Campbell, Glynis Wright, age 18, was awarded the Miss Talent trophy for her singing performance of a Mozart aria, turned the judges' eyes in the swim suit competition to win the Miss Swimsuit trophy, and topped it all off by being crowned Miss Campbell 1965.

She will represent the city at Santa Cruz in the Miss California Pageant early in June.

First runner-up was Sandy Germain, of 598 S. 9th St., San Jose, a baton twirling dancer from San Jose State College. Second runner-up was Susan Adams, a Camden High Senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randall R. Adams, 1713 White Oaks Road, Campbell.

In the Miss America preliminary pageant which was produced by the Campbell Jaycees, the Miss Congeniality trophy (a result of the entrants own voting) was awarded to Sandra Smith, a 19-year old Foothill College modern language major.

Letters to the Editor

ABOUT PARKS

Dear George,

It was good to read in last weeks Campbell Press that a park link between Campbell and Vasona Park is being considered by our officials. May I offer a couple of "layman" suggestions for the development of this property adjacent to Hiway 17?

Wouldn't this stretch of land along Los Gatos Creek lend itself beautifully to riding trails for equestrians? Paths leading from Campbell to Vasona, planted with trees and shrubbey, would not only beautify this now barren (and in some places ugly) expanse, but would provide wholesome recreation for many people in this area.

Stables and an instruction ring could be located where the helicopter port was planned, or at the Camden site. (Prevailing North winds would take care of any objectional "horsey odors"). Campbell, or the Park Commission could very well realize a nice bit of income from the rental of such facilities, and it would also provide jobs for many of our local teenagers.

Patterned on a small scale after riding trails in San Francisco of Griffith Park, with a few "river crossings" etc., this type of development would be an asset to both Campbell and Los Gatos as well as to the Water Conservation District. And just imagine the favorable impression this riding park would make on people traveling on Highway 17--many might stop here instead of fighting the Santa Cruz traffic!

If this suggestion is "too far out", how about developing bicycle paths instead? Many families, as well as children, would enjoy a bike trip free from auto hazards and could picnick in either Campbell or Vasona Park. This would provide excellent recreation for people of all ages and wouldn't be too expensive to maintain.

Why not have your paper start a "suggestion campaign to promote interest in the development of this property?

Sincerely,
Marge Schanck

City Hall briefs

In a fast-moving City Council meeting Monday night, the council:

--GAVE FIRST READING to two zoning ordinances (1) from R-D to R-3 on Budd near the San Tomas Expressway where a 260-unit apartment is planned; (2) from CMB-80 to CMB-20 (controlled manufacturing) on Dell Ave.

--GAVE FIRST READING to ordinance on "house-moving" which will allow houses only to be moved within the city limits and not from outside.

--ASKED the Chamber of Commerce to furnish a financial report on the $9000 allocated to the C. of C. annually. The C. of C. had submitted an impressive quarterly report on promotional activities but with no cost figures.

--HEARD from City Manager Bob Stephens that the county welfare department was cooperating with the city's unsafe building program in the matter of finding suitable housing for owners of condemned houses.

--APPROVED the request of the Campbell Baptist Church for a directional sign at Winchester and Sunnyoaks provided the sign met with staff approval with Councilman McElroy dissenting. McElroy indicated that he felt church directional signs were unnecessary as the churchgoers should know where they were going.

--DIRECTED that city engineer install the traffic signals that were removed from Campbell-Winchester at Union-Campbell as was recommended by the engineer. The council learned that it will cost approximately $18,000 to install synchronized signals on Winchester and the amount would be included in the preliminary budget.

--ADOPTED four ordinances, three of them unanimously but the one that prohibits the conversion of residences into business or office buildings skimmed by with the same 3-2 vote as had been the case in previous actions. Rose, McElroy and Rogers opposed by Doetsch and Smeed. The other three ordinances were on zoning matters, two in the McGlincey area and one for Leonard Pritchard on P-D plans on Hacienda.

--APPROVED the agreement with Pellegrini and Rositano with respect to plans for a business building that is to be located on Campbell Ave. off Central.

--ADOPTED a resolution in recognition of the pending retirement of school Superintendent Bill Henley on June 30 after 21 years as head of the schools.

--SET JUNE 14 as the hearing date for annexation in the Sunnyoaks area.

--OVERRULED a Planning Commission decision which had attached certain conditions to property owned by Pete Cristich on Cristich Lane. Cristich had requested to build an addition to his office and claimed through his attorney, Richard Morton, that the conditions attached to his obtaining a permit were unfair and illegal and had appealed to the council. The council overruled the planners on the recommendation of City Attorney Joseph Bonacina.

Local life agents open new office

Under the principle of academic freedom, a university allows complete freedom in the presentation of ideas, whether they stem from Communists, the John Birch Society, or any group in between. The theory is that an intelligent mind will make correct decisions when it has all the facts.

Recent events have raised the question of whether some educators have not chosen to interpret academic freedom as the right to hold and view--provided--they agree with it. Too often, it seems that the conservative view is rejected by liberal professors, not with logic but with a blanket indictment that is extremist. Rarely do we see a liberal of left-wing view rejected on the same grounds; instead, academic freedom is used as justification for their expression.

On April 23, Secretary of State Rusk, a former professor himself, said, "I sometimes wonder at the gullibility of educated men and the stubborn disregard of plain facts by men who are supposed to be helping our young to learn--especially to learn how to think."

Then the Secretary rightly raised the question of why so many of these educated people would ask the United States to stop hitting military targets without requiring that the Viet Cong stop its slaughter of civilians in schools, hospitals, etc.

Many student groups, probably reflecting the views of some professors, emphasize our "criminal" bombing of North Vietnam and seem to treat the blowing up of a U.S. Embassy and the killing in villages overrun by the Viet Cong as no more than puckish acts.

Professor Mulford Q. Sibley of the University of Minnesota, who has stated publicly that he would assist students in forming campus nudist colonies and free love societies, recently went to Canada to condemn U. S. Policy in Vietnam. He spoke only of our "aggression" and failed to mention our vast outpouring of foreign aid to France, Indonesia, Pakistan and Burma, and our other honest efforts to solve Asian problems.

The recent demonstration by students at the White House against our Vietnam policy was certainly no credit to our modern academic community. The students were handing out copies of the "Young Socialist" and other extreme left-wing literature. Most of them appeared as unclean, bearded misfits and hardly "All-American" kids.

It must be more than coincidence that two demonstrations in San Francisco were timed to dovetail with the Student "March" on Washington. Permits for the demonstrations were obtained by Tom Richards on behalf of several organizations and Leslie Evans on behalf of the Progressive Labor Movement and the Young Socialist Alliance, both Communist front organizations. Richards is an official of an organization cited by the Attorney General as Communist.

Academic Freedom is still a sound principle. But if the free speech movement at U.C. and recent Communist-inspired student protests against our policy in Vietnam are its products, then I suggest that we've had a one-sided application of the principle.

The vast majority of the educators deserve immunity from the implications of this column. It is unfortunate that the actions of a few have reflected unfavorably upon so many.

FINANCE DIRECTOR

Edward N. Glaeser has been named to the newly created post of Director of Finance for the County of Santa Clara (Calif.) effective at the start of the fiscal year on July 1. Santa Clara, fifth largest metropolitan area in California, is the first county in the state to combine all functions of Controller, Treasurer, and Tax Collector under one head.

Obituaries

John G. Hayes

John (Jack) G. Hayes, 45, of 230 S. Peter Dr., a research engineer with Owens Corning Fiberglass Co., died of a brain tumor in a Palo Alto hospital last week, after 8 months of hospitalization.

Hayes, a native of Santa Maria, Calif., was graduated from the University of Southern California with a degree in petroleum engineering. He served as an engineering officer aboard a tank landing craft in the South Pacific during World War II. He returned to service during the Korean conflict, helping to establish the Navy's officer candidate school at Newport, R.I.

Hayes is survived by his wife, Mrs. Thais Hayes of Campbell, his daughter, Miss Eileen Hayes, and son, Todd Hayes.

Funeral services were held at Darling, Fischer and Faber Chapel in Los Gatos, and a mass was offered in Hayes' memory at St. Lucy's Church. He will be buried at Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

John Bakken

John Bakken, a painting and decorating contractor in the Santa Clara Valley for 40 years, died in a Campbell hospital after a long illness.

The 79 year old Bakken was a native of Norway. His home was at 1070 S. San Tomas Rd. He was the husband of Ora E. Bakken of Campbell; father of Oscar Hart of Campbell; brother of Peter, Margit and Else Bakken, all of Norway, and grandfather of one.

Services were held at the Darling-Fischer Garden Chapel, San Jose. Interment was in Oak Hill Memorial Park.

Adult school wins honors for top work

A notification from the Western Schools and Colleges Accrediting Commission for Secondary Schools congratulated the Campbell Adult School on "the quality of work being done at the school" and awarded the full term of accreditation, expiring on June 30, 1970, according to Edward P. Stanley, principal and director of adult education, Campbell Union High School District.

Special commendation was noted with respect to the high morale among the teachers and their concern for providing the best educational opportunity for the students. The district was further commended for providing a wide range of educational opportunities for adults as well as a counseling program for out of school youth and adults.

The accrediting of adult schools is a part of a statewide program initiated by the Western Schools and Colleges for providing evaluation and consequent improvement in these educational facilities.

With the challenge of the new learnings in the sciences, mathematics and humanities and the need for retraining five times in the average lifetime, and the need for provision of education and opportunity for out of school youth, the adult schools purpose has become more clearly defined and its program is meeting this challenge of the sixties, according to Edward Stanley, director.

Halsey Burke heads United Fund

Halsey C. Burke of 21225 Saratoga Hills Rd., Saratoga, has been chosen campaign chairman for the Central Area Chapter of the United Fund, which includes Campbell and 10 other nearby communities.

Burke, who is president of Burke Rubber Co., Inc., accepted the campaign post from Bart R. van Eck, UF chapter president, at the group's board of directors meeting May 6.

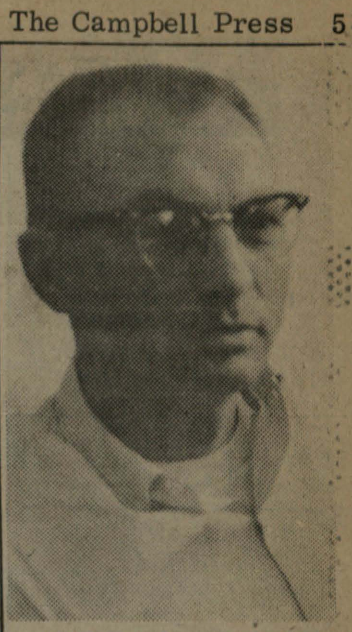
One of Burke's appointments will be the naming of a successor for O. S. Sorenson, Bank of America manager and 1964 Campbell United Fund campaign chairman.

ON USS MIDWAY

Airman Apprentice William G. Turner, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Turner of 684 N. Harrison, Campbell, is participating in air strike operations against communist Viet Cong and North Vietnamese military targets while serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Midway.

GRADUATES

Aviation Electronics Technician Third Class Robert C. Broughton, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Broughton of 1223 Walnut Drive, Campbell, was recently graduated 16 from the Aviation Electronics Technician Navigation School at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn.



JAYCEE PRESIDENT--Al Hansen has been elected president of the Campbell Junior Chamber of Commerce. He succeeds Jim Pluth who served as first president of the organization. Other officers named include, Bob Dalzell, internal vice-president; Jerry Duncan, external vice-president; Jim Pluth, state director; Gabe Salis, secretary; Alan Murray, treasurer; Don King, internal director; Al Blaine, external director. Duncan, the new secretary, has been awarded a trip to Los Vegas for being high man in the club's membership contest.

Little sparks...

burn great forests

Common sense is all that stands between controlled burning and full-scale forest fires. Before you start any fire, check local regulations... Be sure fires can't spread... Never burn on dry or windy days...and never leave fires unattended. Nine out of ten forest fires are caused by careless people. So don't be careless.

Please!...only you can prevent forest fires

Publishers award three scholarships

Three out of seven applicants for a California Newspaper Publishers Association scholarship will receive grants for college work in journalism next year, according to Harry Green, John P. Scripps Newspapers, San Diego.

Green, chairman of the CNPA committee considering applicants for the Edith R. Allan Memorial Scholarship, said that because of the unusual qualifications of the candidates, second and third place grants were awarded this year.

Miss Patricia Opdyke, of Fresno State College, was judged the winner of the $500 first place award.

Miss Phebe Balentine, of San Diego State College, will receive a $300 second place award and Miss Susan Kang, of San Jose State College, will be awarded $100 for third place.

Edith R. Allan, for whom the memorial scholarship was established, formerly was Los Angeles Manager of the California Newspaper Publishers Association. She spent 20 years associated with California newspapers before her death in 1946.
